

Scott Gibson on the sloping rail

Creek Point

An oasis on the coast a couple of miles north of Scarborough. The sandstone is partially sea-washed and may need a dust with a towel. The rock is at its driest in summer. Most landings are fine. There are some more lines to be had. Please take care of the tides!

Soft Shock 7c An early attempt

Problems

1. The Sandy Ramp 7b Start from sitting on the left at two Holds below the ramp. Pull up to the slopy ramp and then follow this rightwards, campus off the upper rail, then top out. Classic!

2. Heatwave 7b/7b+ From a sitting start on edges just below and right of where the Sloping ramp finishes. Pull on and make a tricky slap up and left. The climb direct using sloping side pulls right of the arete of the corner and the sloping shelf.

3. Creek Wall Campus 7a+ On the wall just left of the corner of Soft Shock are two high edges. Use these to campus up to the shelves above and then the top.

4. Soft Shock 7c Start from sitting at the base of the corner and undercut up and then out using the to finish. Another classic!

5. Is Bird St Lucky 5+ Sit start the centre of the nose, climbs via some big thuggy pulls.

6. Sharp Arete 6c Sit start using both aretes work your way up, topping out left, feels quite bold.

7: The Slab 5+ Start with your left hand on the pocket and the right on the rib feature, put the left foot high and delicately crank for top

8. Look Out Wall 5+ Climb up the centre of the seaward face of the Look out boulder from standing.

The Slab Straight up using the pocket
